Guest Speaker: Veronica

Brew Master Researcher and Development at Deschutes Brewery

She has been brewing for 13 years
She went to school and Humboldt of state (California)
*Sierra Nevada Porter was her go-to beer
She studied Biology in school
After school, she went out to field work (counting spotted owls, working in the National Parks)
Fell in love with Bend when she visited
Started off in the tasting room and giving tours at Deschutes Brewery
-She was really inspired from telling the story of Deschutes
-She applied for the cellar job

Brett Porter - Hired Veronica on
She got her foot into the door in the cellar

Paul - Ale Apothecary (Pub brewer at Deschutes the time Veronica was working)
Veronica took over Paul's job for about 3 years
She enjoyed watching customers drinking her brews
All of Deschutes' new beers are brewed on the pub tanks first
2 Barrel Pilot Brewery - 80th brew on the pilot brewing system

Culinary Inspired - Vanilla Almond Sour
TA: .6

TA - More specific measurement
PH - You can have a range of measurements

Diselhouser - German brewery
They shared their culture with Deschutes Brewery and they have been brewing with the strain since the collaboration

Honey Cream Ale - They placed 12 hives above their brewery, Veronica took the hives since customers were worried about allergic reactions
When it warms up, you might be able to pick up on some lavender notes

Gary Fish in on the board with Humm Kombucha

Larry created Red Chair and Cam created Fresh Squeeze at the Portland Pub

John Harris was the original brewmaster at the Bend Pub - O' Be Joyful

*It was brewed with the only hop Gary would allow John to buy with

Frank Appleton - The consultant behind Black Butte Porter

*Wrote the book about Craft Beer in America, he lives in Canada

Brewing a sweet stout
